In this ever-changing world of software development it's extremely important to keep up with current technologies, methodologies and trends. VTU encourages the teaching staff to keep abreast with the new technology by providing exposure to the same through industry interactions.

VTU in association with Computer Society of India, Bangalore Chapter is conducting an unique "Faculty Development Program" titled i3 for i3 - FDP (Innovative Implementable ideas for Industry Institution Interaction - FDP) on the 10th and 11th of January 2013 at VTU Conference Hall, Belgaum.

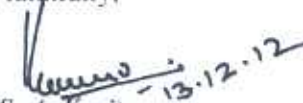

The deliberations are scheduled for 2 days - first day will focus on development of Leadership and Management skills among senior staff members and the second day will focus on latest development in the Software industry. CSI has ensured to get the best speakers from the industry. I understand that organizations like TCS, Microsoft, NIIT, Ericsson, VMware, Ninestars and Thoughtworks will be delivering talks. They will provide exposure on the trends in their area of expertise.

Participation is on first come first served basis with number of seats limited to 100. Registration will be limited to 2 or 3 staff members per college. There is no fee for participation. I urge you to take advantage of this opportunity and register immediately for this seminar.
